Environmental Education: collaborative efforts to achieve sustainable development.

AFDC environmental education program was initiated in 1998 in collaboration with the Ministry of Education and Higher Education in Lebanon and the Hanns Seidel Foundation.

The program targeted more than 500 private and public schools from different Lebanese regions aiming to promote sustainable development, sustainable use of natural resources, and resolution of conflicting interests of natural resources across all generations, health issues, ownership and citizenship of local environment.

The National Policy for Environmental Education

In 2010, AFDC signed an agreement with the Educational Centre for Research and Development (CRDP) affiliated to Ministry of Education to implement a three years project about “The Development of a National Strategy in Environmental Education” with the financial support of Hanns Seidel Foundation.
